ANARCHISM

Directly the Cause of the Riots in the Mining Region.

GERMAN CATHOLIC PRIEST'S STORY,

The Mansfield Affair of Anarchist Inception and Design.

MORE BLOODSHED IS EXPECTED

To-day—Spies Report That the Foreigners Are Preparing to Attack the Mines at Bridgeville, Rosevale and Beadling—They Will Meet With a Warm Reception—A Hundred Armed Deputies on Guard and the Anarchists Will Have to Answer Dearly if They Carry Out Their Plans—The Beadling Brothers Ready for Them.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 28.—The quiet of Sunday prevailed to-day throughout the Mansfield coal region, the scene of yesterday's rioting.

But few strikers were seen out of their houses, and the deputy sheriffs on guard at the various mines in the district had little to occupy their attention. By many, however, the calm was regarded as preceding the storm. There are well grounded fears of another outbreak to-morrow, and the law-abiding citizens are preparing to meet it.

Trusted foreigners, who were supposed to be in sympathy with the rioters, were sent out this morning by the coal operators. They circulated freely with the strikers, and this evening returned with the information that preparations were being made to attack the works at Bridgeville, Rosevale and Beadling.

The feeling among the rioters is very bitter against the Beadling brothers for the killing of Frank Steptz, and they assert that they will have revenge.

If another attack is made upon the Beadling works the foreigners will meet with a still warmer reception than that accorded them yesterday. There are twelve men in the Beadling family and every one is as determined and brave as the three who yesterday put to flight a mob of several hundred.

Thomas Beadling, says he and his two brothers fired just one hundred shots yesterday and he is satisfied that if the search of the strikers was made, at least a score of wounded men would be found. Frank Steptz, who was shot through the body, died at 10 o'clock this morning. He was a member of the Sons of St. George, and his family will receive a death benefit of $1,500.

This afternoon Squire C. P. Mayer, whose general store was attacked by the mob, made information against sixteen men, whom he recognized among the rioters. Posses will go after them in the morning.

At present there are over one hundred deputies on guard throughout the region and this number will be doubled to-morrow, if possible.

AN ANARCHIST PLOT.

There are strong reasons for believing that the Anarchists hereabouts are responsible for yesterday's disorder. It is known that the bulk of the insurgents came from Bower Hill and upon the authority of Rev. Father Jacob Wertz, pastor of St. Joseph's German Catholic church at Mansfield, there are at least one hundred families on Bower Hill who openly avow anarchism.

Their bible is a radically anarchist sheet printed in Wisconsin and appropriately named Lucifer, and the confession of faith is set forth in the spacious sophristry of its publication. This sheet is written by an uneducated priest named Michael Biron, a man of good education, who fell away from the church when in Mayence, Germany. He is now publishing this sheet in Madison, Wis., and it has a considerable number of subscribers in this section and in the coke regions.

In conversation to-day Father Wertz said:

"I have been unwilling to speak on this subject, but now feel that I should no longer remain silent. It is my firm conviction that the movement yesterday was of Anarchistic inception and design. Not less than one hundred families in this region avow teachings of Anarchy and do not seek to disguise it. I had hoped to bring back these people into the church, but it now seems a hopeless task. There is really no religion among them. To reform them is almost impossible. They have no regard for law, as they are too ignorant to understand its meaning and are ripe seed for the agitator and leader, who has his own ends to gain.

"I took the Wisconsin publication for a year for the purpose and object of trying to influence these people against its teachings, but I was unsuccessful." Father Wertz said further that they had a secret organization opposed to American law, but none but members could secure admittance, or learn anything of the proceedings.

TRouble EXPECTED TO-DAY.

A dispatch from Mansfield says there is considerable excitement there to-night and preparations are being made for trouble to-morrow. This afternoon twenty-five members of Company K, Fourteenth regiment, N. G. P., stationed at Mansfield, were sworn in as deputies and fully as many more citizens qualified as such.

Sheriff Richards, of Allegheny county, is in command and reinforcements are being dispatched to threatened points as fast as possible. The sheriff has his forces well in hand and it is thought will be able to cope with any disturbance that may occur.

A meeting of strikers is said to have been held somewhere in Mansfield to-day, but where or what was done could not be learned.

After midnight, last night, a number of Italians and Frenchmen, a sprinkling of Hungarians and Slavs, appeared on the hills above the burnt tipple of the Pan-Handle Coal Company and made threats of burning the company houses. The deputies on guard fired several shots in the air and frightened them off. They returned several times between that and daybreak, but did not carry their threats into execution. Once they returned the shots of the deputies, but no one was injured.

MURDERED IN HIS STORE.

A Merchant Found Dead by His Wife at Pittsburgh, Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 28.—A special to the Times from Pittsburgh, Kansas, says:

One of the most horrible murders ever committed in this part of Kansas was discovered this morning, when the body of William A. Chapman, one of the prominent citizens of the city, was found dead in his store room, with his throat cut and his body fearfully cut and slashed and covered with congealed blood.

Mr. Chapman was the proprietor of a grocery and also was treasurer for the A. O. U. W. of Pittsburgh. His residence adjoined his store. For some time past he had been sleeping in his store on account of the many burglaries committed here. This morning about 7 o'clock Mrs. Chapman went to the store to call her husband, and no response being made she aroused a couple of neighbors, who forced the door, when a horrible sight awaited them.

On the floor behind the counter, in a large pool of blood, lay the lifeless body of Mr. Chapman, with his throat cut, his hands tied behind him, a gag in his mouth and his body hacked to pieces with a knife, and a wound on the eye, apparently made with a club.

Robbery is believed to have prompted the deed.

The citizens are much wrought up over the horrible affair, and bloodhounds have been sent for. If the murderers are caught they will receive summary justice.

SMITH AND JACKSON

May Fight Before Jackson Meets Jim Corbett.

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—Denver Ed Smith was in the city to-night for a few hours on his way to Denver from the Jacksonville fight. While here he spent some time with Tom Allen.

The sporting editor of the Republic, shortly after Smith left the city, received a telegram from Louisville stating that "Parson" Davies, manager of Peter Jackson, was considering matching the big black against the Denyer man for a fight to take place before his meeting with Corbett in June.

Tom Allen said to an Associated Press representative regarding the telegram mentioned above:

"If the 'parson' is in earnest in this statement, we will have the money up in a week. I hope Smith can meet Jackson before the latter goes against Corbett."

STRANGLE HOLD BARRED.

But It Got In and This Wrestling Match Was Decided on Account of It.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 28.—The wrestling match here last night between Matt Luttbeg and Barney McFadden, for the welter-weight championship of the world was awarded to McFadden by three judges. The match was for $500 and the championship, stranglehold barred.

McFadden claimed his opponent was using the strangle and his claim was allowed and the match decided on the foul. Luttbeg was handicapped by a sore leg and claims he was only using the chin hold. At the decision, the respective friends of the contestants rushed to the stage and a riot was only prevented by the presence of about fifty police.

DISCOVERED AT LAST.

The "Lady" Who, Dressed in Boy's Clothes, Visited the Corbett-Mitchell Fight.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 28.—The identity of the woman who witnessed the recent Corbett-Mitchell fight at Jacksonville has been discovered to be Norrino Willis, an inmate of Madame Gusie Winter's house, on Tenth street, this city.

The son of a wealthy banker of Birmingham, Ala., took her to the fight. The couple returned to the city at noon to-day.

Here's An Open Challenge.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 28.—Charles Slusher, of this city, who recently defeated Vokes, challenges any 130 pound man in the world for $5,000, and says he wants to hear from Jack McAuliffe, Austin Gibbons, Andy Bowen and Billy Myers especially.

Six Rattling Rounds.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 28.—George McKenzie, from Australia, and Charles Wheeler, a colored man from Omaha, fought six rattling rounds late last night in a south side saloon, McKenzie winning. The contest was the hottest and most evenly contested mill ever held in Chicago.

Important Announcement.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Peter Jackson, the famous colored pugilist, passed through here to-night on his way west. He left this city for Indianapolis shortly after 6 o'clock.

Their Sad Parting.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 28.—Mrs. Stone, wife of Stone, the murderer of the Walton family, numbering six persons, visited the southern prison this afternoon and bid Stone a last farewell. The meeting was an extremely sad one and touched stone to the quick. On taking her leave Mrs. Stone wept bitterly, joined by her children and the father.

The Wages of Sin.

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 28.—Blanche Cornetto was shot and killed by deputy-sheriff in a fit of jealous rage this morning in a house of ill-repute. Wright is in jail.

Another Blizzard.

COMO, Colo., Jan. 28.—A severe wind and snow storm has prevailed here for thirty-six hours, and there is no sign of abatement. Trains on the Union Pacific High Line are blocked.

Frozen to Death.

ELVASTON, Ills., Jan. 28.—Otto Boling, while trying to walk from Keokuk, was frozen to death near Carthage, to-day.

THE BONDS ARE VALID.

The Question Raised Does Not Involve the Legality of the New U. S. Bonds, and No One Need Be Afraid to Invest.

New York, Jan. 28.—John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in this city. He made public the following statement to-night:

"It has been erroneously published in some newspapers that the committee on the judiciary of the house of representatives had agreed to and reported a resolution denying the authority of the secretary of the treasury to issue and sell bonds, as proposed in his recent circular, and these publications have evidently made an unfavorable impression upon the minds of some who contemplated making bids for these securities. "These resolutions assumed that the authority to issue bonds was conferred upon the secretary of the treasury by the act of January 14, 1875, and that such authority still exists; but it asserts that the proceeds of the bonds cannot be lawfully used except for the purpose of redemption.

"The official stenographic report of the proceedings in the committee when the secretary of the treasury appeared before it last Thursday, shows that his authority is not questioned by any member, the only question being whether he could use the proceeds for any other purpose than the redemption of United States notes. Mr. Bailey, the author of the resolutions, distinctly admitted the existence of the authority. Addressing the secretary, Mr. Bailey said: 'The resolution does not impeach your right to issue bonds; it expressly recognizes it, but questions your right to apply the proceeds to any purpose except those specified in the act.'"

"The judiciary committee of the house examined and reported upon this same question during the Fifty-second Congress and it then conceded that the authority existed under the act of 1875. The question as to the authority of the secretary of the treasury to use the money in any particular manner, or for any particular purpose, is wholly distinct from the question as to his authority to issue and sell bonds. No matter what he may do with the money, the validity of the bonds will not be affected and there is, therefore, no reason why any one should hesitate to invest in those securities on the ground that the proceeds might possibly be used for other than redemption purposes."

BIG FIRE AT BATH.

A Large Portion of the Business Part of the City Burned.

BATH, Me., Jan. 28.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city broke out to-day in the Sagadahock House stables. A large part of the business portion of the city was gutted, about twenty buildings being destroyed.

The fire communicated to the hotel from the stables, and the house, which is the leading hostelry of the town, was quickly gutted. The adjoining buildings were soon in flames, and before the fire could be controlled half a million dollars worth of property was destroyed. The following were burned out and are the heaviest losers:

Sagadahock House, Lincoln National Bank, A. Hallett & Co., druggists; J. C. Shaw, book-seller and stationer; J. S. Douglas, clothing; Marine National Bank; D. L. Perry & Son's, dry goods; also their grocery store; A. M. Frank, cigar dealer; W. K. Stearns, book-binder; J. W. Gilmore, confectionery; Central House; W. S. Shorey, book-binder; W. J. Jack, barber; W. J. Parks & Co., cigar manufacturers; twenty Five Cent Institution; Charles H. Norton, cigar dealer, and W. G. Webber, druggist.

Several society halls, insurance and lawyers and doctors offices and dwelling houses were also destroyed, while the Time Printing Co., and a number of stores were considerably damaged by water.

THE FIRE RECORD.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 28.—Fire to-day completely destroyed the five-story building occupied by the Western Boot and Shoe Company and the Bernard-Gannon Shoe Company, on Olive street, with all the contents. The latter's loss on stock and machinery is $40,000. Two hundred and fifty persons are thrown out of employment.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 28.—The Howor oat meal mill, at Akron, Ohio, owned by the American Cereal Company, burned this afternoon. The loss is estimated at $75,000 on buildings and machinery, $15,000 on stock on hand, and $10,000 on boxes—total, $100,000. The insurance is $50,000.

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 28.—The Miles building, a handsome five-story brick on Central avenue, was gutted by fire to-day. After a hard struggle the fire was confined to the building. Loss estimated at $35,000.

PALMER, Mass., Jan. 28.—Fire to-night destroyed the opera house and all the machinery and stocks in trade of several prosperous business firms. Loss $30,000.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 28.—Mrs. May McGee was burned to death at West Paris, Mo., to-day.

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 28.—Fire here to-day caused a loss of about $100,000.

Wants to Perpetuate the Monopoly.

Boston, Jan. 28.—The American Bell Telephone Company will this week petition the legislature for permission to increase its capital stock about $30,000,000. The present stock represents $20,000,000 and the company desires to make it $50,000,000, ostensibly for the purpose of extending and improving the service and in order to place it beyond the reach of any competing company that science would organize.

Christian Science Wouldn't Save Her.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Jan. 28.—Mrs. William Seidentopf, an old lady, who followed the teachings of Christian science, snored round on rats on a piece of bread and ate it. She refused to have a doctor till too late to save her life.

Claims It Was Accidental.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 28.—A special to the Free Press says: At Estey's, Gladwyn county, on Saturday, Andrew Glenn shot and instantly killed James Foster. Glenn claims the shooting was an accident. The men lived together,

NEARING THE END.

The House Will Dispose of the Tariff Bill Thursday.

THE PROSPECTS FOR ITS PASSAGE.

Not More Than Thirty Democratic Votes Against It.

THE REPUBLICAN PROGRAMME.

Their Policy Will Not Be to Concern

Themselves in a Democratic Factional Fight Unless It Would Defeat the Measure—The Income Tax Provision May Yet Cause the Recommitment of the Bill—After the Tariff the Hawaiian Question Will Come Up—The Week in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—The great tariff debate will close in the house on next Thursday at 3 o'clock, when, according to the amended special order under which the house is operating, the vote will be taken on the pending amendments and the final passage of the bill. The debate during the coming week will relate entirely to the internal revenue bill which the Democratic caucus decided to place upon the tariff bill as a rider. To-morrow and Tuesday will be devoted to general debate, and Wednesday to debate under the five minute rule, when the internal revenue features will be open to amendment. Of course, the principal opposition will be directed against the income tax which is being bitterly opposed by the eastern Democrats. The Republicans, however, will not vote with the Democratic opponents of the income tax, but will either refrain from voting or else, if necessary to make a quota, vote for it in order to incorporate it in the bill. The attempt to defeat it will, therefore, be hopeless. When the bill is reported to the house on Thursday three hours will be allowed for closing the debate, one and a half hours on a side. Mr. Reed will close for the Republicans and Mr. Wilson and Mr. Crisp for the Democrats. The indications are that when the bill is placed upon its final passage it will have a fair margin to carry it.

THE REPUBLICAN RELIEF.

During the past week the movement to recommit the bill looked formidable as at least fifty Democrats (counting the anti-income taxers) including all those dissatisfied with any other portion of the measure were counted upon to take this indirect method of compelling changes in their interest. With the Republican support this plan might have succeeded. But yesterday some of the Republican leaders talked the situation over and came to the conclusion that it would not be politic to join a faction in the Democratic ranks in order to give the bill a back-set which might not raise it in its ultimate defeat. They have informally decided, therefore, to either refrain from voting or else to vote against the motion to recommit, but they will vote with the opposition against the passage of the bill or for a motion to strike out the enacting clause, which motion will place the opponents of the bill fairly and squarely on record against the entire measure. This decision, if it is adhered to, in the opinion of the Democratic leaders, removes all doubt as to the final passage of the bill, as they believe that not more than thirty Democrats at the outside will carry their opposition to the extent of voting directly against the bill.

SURE TO PASS.

If the Republicans should poll their whole strength (124) this would only raise the vote against the bill to 154, as with the income tax included it is believed that the bill will command the entire Populist vote of nine. The full vote for the bill, therefore, could be 200, a majority of 48. It is fair to assume that the absentees will be drawn proportionately from each side; so that from present indications the Democratic leaders claim a majority for the bill of from 30 upwards. If by any change of programme the Republicans should decide to vote in favor of the motion to recommit, the additional strength gained from the Democratic side (about 20) might seriously endanger, if not defeat, the measure. But this is not now anticipated.

After the tariff is disposed of on Thursday, a special order will be brought in for the consideration of the Hawaiian matter Friday and Saturday. The McCroary resolution will form the basis of the debate, and, while some very lively and picturesque speeches will probably be made, it is expected that it will be passed practically by a strict party vote.

THE SENATE.

The present indications are that the federal elections bill and the Hawaiian question, will, in a large measure, divide the attention of the senate this week. If the tariff bill should pass the house according to programme Thursday and be sent immediately to the senate nothing would be done with it more than to refer it to the finance committee, where it will rest for at least a few weeks, so that there is a little or no prospect of this subject interfering in any way for the present with the consideration of the bills and resolutions already on the calendar.

The Hawaiian question has the right of way for the morning hour, that is, up to 2 o'clock of the day, and the elections bill after that time. The Hawaiian discussion will be based upon the resolution reported by Senator Turpie from the committee on foreign relations and the various amendments and substitutes proposed, one each by Senators Manderson, Dolph, Stewart and Gallinger, and one substitute, that offered by Senator Vest. The amendments of the first three senators are very much in the same line, and recognize the present government of Hawaii without committing the senate to any proposition against annexation even for expediency's sake. Senator Dolph's amendment looks to the recall of the minister.

SHOT SEVEN TIMES.

This May Turn Out to be an Attempted Express Robbery in the Shadow of the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Thomas Divero, who says his home is in Troy, N. Y., was shot seven times by guards on the express car of train 540, which left here at 11:20 to-night. The shots all took effect in Divero's right leg. He says that he was standing on the sidewalk just outside the depot watching the train pull out. Three or four men attempted to board the express car and the shots were fired.

The railway officials say that four men tried to jump on the car just outside the depot and that Divero was one of them. They say that robbery was probably the object of the men; that they tried to get aboard and the shots were accordingly fired.

The guard who fired the shots will be arrested upon the arrival of the train in New York.

Two Violations of the Sabbath.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee held a brief session this afternoon to formulate a plan of procedure for the general debate on the internal revenue bill which begins to-morrow. Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, will have charge of the floor and will open the debate to-morrow.

New York, Jan. 28.—James J. Corbett appeared at the benefit tendered to-night to "Billy" Madden, the old-time pugilist. He was enthusiastically received.

Cannot be Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—It was not possible to-night to obtain a confirmation or denial from either Secretary Gresham or Secretary Herbert of the report that two American vessels had been fired upon in Rio de Janeiro bay. Secretary Herbert said that he had no statement to give out on the subject.

CAMPBELL'S ASSIGNMENT.

It Has a Political End to It—Brice and McLean the Heavy Villains in the Play.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 28.—As Ex-Governor Campbell's paper has gone to protest repeatedly here and at his old home in Hamilton as well as in Columbus and the east, the report of his assignment creates no surprise in this city. It is, however, impossible to confirm the report here or at Hamilton.

It is well known that Senator Brice and John R. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, are among Campbell's largest creditors and that he has had political as well as other differences with both of them. Among the reports is one to the effect that Brice does not want to stand for re-election next year and that McLean will be pressed for the senate. In this connection the talk about Campbell preparing to run for governor next year is regarded as intended to affect Brice and McLean's alleged efforts for settlement as well as their political programme. Campbell's real estate and manufacturing interests at Hamilton are all gone and his friends say that he is not returning there for business. Although generally considered bankrupt, it is conceded he has more political influence than any other man in his party in the state, and it is thought could break even the Brice-McLean combine if crowded on paper which they have failed to realize on for over five years.

ANOTHER CHARLIE ROSS.

Now Believed That Eddie Brotherton Was Kidnapped—An Organ Grinder Arrested.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 28.—There seems but little reason to doubt that Eddie Brotherton, the ten-year-old boy who disappeared from his home in Ashley ten days ago, was kidnapped and that he has either been murdered or is being held for ransom.

The whole community is at fever heat over the case, and is showing in many ways its sympathy for the half-crazed parents of the missing boy.

A large sum of money was raised yesterday by the friends of Mr. Brotherton to be devoted to the payment of detectives who will prosecute the search. The neighbors turned out to-day en masse and scoured the mountains above Ashley in an unsuccessful effort to find some trace of the lad.

An Italian organ grinder named Rieco has been arrested in Scranton, and was brought here on suspicion of having stolen the boy. It is alleged by the police that the man's thirteen-year-old daughter has admitted that the boy was with them until Friday night, but the girl, who is in jail with her father, denies having made any such statement. The man will have a hearing to-morrow, when it is thought that some new facts may be brought out.

No less than four persons profess to have seen the boy since his disappearance from home and in each case it is said that he was in the company of an Italian, but some of these describe him as a peddler, while the others insist that he is an organ-grinder.

Midwinter Fair Attendance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The official figures from the Midwinter Fair headquarters show that 72,488 people passed through the turnstiles on Saturday, the opening day. Of this number over 60,000 paid the regular admission fee of fifty cents.

There is no opposition to Sunday opening and everything is wide open to-day, and an immense crowd is in attendance.

A Joke That Wasn't Funny.

TOLSON, O., Jan. 28.—A case of what might be called accidental suicide was reported to the coroner this morning. Frederick Leab, of 1238 Erie street, thought to frighten his wife on her return from church and fastening a clothes line to a nail in the wall put a loose coil about his neck. In some manner he tripped, and the rope pulling taut his neck was dislocated in the fall and death was instantaneous.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Regarding the Outcome of the Anglo-Egyptian Incident.

ALL THE CAIRO CORRESPONDENTS

See the Affair Through Different Spectacles—One Says the Incident Has Closed and Another Says It Hasn't—The Annexation of Egypt May Be the Outcome—The Khedive Thinks He Holds the Hand That Will Take the Trick.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Vienna says that Sultan Abdul Hamid commented sharply on the khedive's attitude towards Great Britain and said that if Abbas had any complaint to make he should have forwarded it to his sovereign, who, if he saw fit, would have communicated with the British ambassador.

A Cairo dispatch to the Times says that the khedive's order terminates an alarming incident.

It was at one time a question whether any of the British officers would continue to serve in the Egyptian army.

The khedive's ministers and the representatives of foreign nations all felt the gravity of introducing political animus into the Mussulman army, officered by a handful of British.

The khedive, finding himself unsupported, wisely accepted the urgent advice of Riaz Pasha and complied with the British demands.

The opinion is now freely expressed that England, in order to insure public tranquility in Egypt, should have required a satisfactory guarantee against the possible recurrence of such playing with fire. Public feeling has become more unsettled.

The khedive's order is addressed to Colonel Kitchener, adjutant-general of the Egyptian army, and says that he "reiterates his solicitude and good will for the army and is happy to record the services of its British officers."

The Cairo correspondent of the Telegraph says that in best informed circles the belief is general that the unpleasant incident is not closed. On the contrary, the situation is regarded as very grave, because the khedive's mission is considered to prove his unbending hostility towards England.

Indeed, adds the correspondent, many persons declare that annexation of Egypt or the deposition of Abbas may ensue unless the khedive, in a further spontaneous apology, consents to be guided in future by English advice.

From remarks of responsible English officials, says the Telegraph dispatch, it is supposed that Great Britain is meditating on the adoption of a severe measure for the assertion of its authority.

From successive interviews had with his ministers, the correspondent says he has every reason to believe that the khedive is in an unyielding mood and that he is resolved to thwart the British government.

He hopes in this way to increase his personal prestige. He fortifies himself with the thought that if things come to the worst he can but retire, like his grandfather, upon his private fortune.
